CONVOCATION TAKES LUNCH AT SWEETBRIAR

The Members Enjoy a Two-Mile Walk Back to Amherst.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
AMHERST, Va., October 25.—The morning session of the convocation opened with the usual devotional services, conducted by Mr. Lloyd. After this an essay prepared by Rev. J. R. Owens, of Lynchburg, was read to the convocation by Rev. Dr. Campbell Mayers, of Radford, Va. Mr. Owens had been called to Lynchburg to officiate at the burial of one of his members. The subject of the essay, "The Bible as Literature," was also discussed by several members of the convocation.

This afternoon the convocation adjourned to take dinner at Sweetbriar Institute. The members went up on the train but walked back. Sweetbriar is about two miles from Amherst, and as the rain had made the roads very muddy, the members did not walk back. The members did not walk back.

A DISASTER NOT YET REPORTED

Four Hundred Life-Preservers Washed Ashore on the Hatteras Coast.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., October 25.—According to advices received here today, quantities of life-preservers have washed ashore on the South Carolina coast, and seafaring men think that a great maritime disaster, yet unreported, has occurred. The report came over the United States Weather Bureau's coast wires, and is as follows: "About 400 life-preservers drifted ashore on October 23d, 24th and 25th, mostly on the 26th, between Cape Hatteras and Hatteras Inlet. Some of them are plain and bear no marks, and some of them are marked 'Cassidy Hatterasguard, G. H. P. No. 28, 29.'"

Two life-preservers also drifted up at Hatteras Inlet station, three miles south of Hatteras, one marked 'Seafarers' and the other unmarked. A small skiff, about fifteen feet long, also drifted up about three miles north of Hatteras, and a small piece of what appears to be a sailor's uniform, came ashore near that station.

The names appearing on the life-preservers are thought to be the names of their makers, and not the names of the vessels. No such vessels are afloat. Life-preservers are not always marked with the name of the ship to which they belong, but sometimes do bear the name of the maker of them.

The preliminary plans for the interior of the new building which John T. Rockefeller is to erect at South Street and Brooke Avenue, this city, for the Naval Young Men's Christian Association, have been approved by the local board of directors of the association, and forwarded to New York. Architect J. J. Caldwell will next prepare the detailed plans and specifications.

The plans approved by the local board provided for a seven-story structure, containing 212 private rooms for the occupancy of United States sailors, besides all the equipment known in modern buildings of this kind, such as a big swimming pool, a big gymnasium, a large and attractive restaurant, etc. It is said that the comfort and entertainment of the sailors while ashore will be equal to that provided by any hotel in Norfolk.

The exterior plans have not yet been submitted to the local committee, but they are expected to provide for a very handsome structure. Work on the construction of the building will not begin before January, but it should be an open winter. It is hoped that the structure can be dedicated before the close of the Jamestown Exposition—some time in November of next year.

CHARLOTTESVILLE FIRE.

Michie Law Publishing Company Suffers Heavy Loss.

(Special to Southern Bell Telephone.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., October 25.—A fire caused by a defective gas stove threatened for a time the destruction of the entire plant of the Michie Law Publishing Company, the largest law publishing house in the South. Prompt action on the part of the Fire Department saved the plant, but the loss from the destruction of the printing press is believed to be very large, although a competent investigation has not taken place.

It is certain, however, that the Michie Law Publishing Company is engaged in publishing a large number of law books, and that the loss of the printing press is a heavy one. The loss is believed to be very large, although a competent investigation has not taken place.

SILVER SERVICE FOR BATTLESHIP

PUNCH BOWL IN SILVER SERVICE TO BE PRESENTED BY STATE TO BATTLESHIP VIRGINIA.

The silver service to be presented by the State to the battleship Virginia has been almost completed, according to the report of the design of the service, which is of Philadelphia, and will be presented within the next few weeks. The service contains forty-six pieces, weighing in the aggregate twenty-five hundred ounces of silver.

The center of the punch bowl tray contains an etching of the Susan Constant, Godspeed and Discovery, in their approach to the shores of Virginia. On the punch bowl itself is etched a view of the new capital in this city. Around the base are applied medallions of Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Harrison, Polk and Taylor.

On the water pitcher appears an etching of Chief Justice John Marshall. The water pitcher tray is embellished by a design of the battleship Virginia. The service contains two loving cups. On one is etched a portrait of General Robert E. Lee, and on the other that of Commander Maury, United States Navy.

On the oval tray of the coffee set appears the rotunda of the University of Virginia. The urn has an etching of the Natural Bridge of Virginia. The tea service silver is inscribed with an etching of the battleship Virginia. A silver-mounted cigar box, containing ten hundred and fifty cigars, has a shield of tobacco leaves bearing the portrait of Sir Walter Raleigh. The inscription on the different large pieces is as follows: "From the Commonwealth of Virginia to the United States Battleship Virginia." The smaller pieces are simply inscribed, "United States Battleship Virginia."

Broadway, Va. The two little ribbon girls were Misses E. D. Burr, Rose and Milla Parsh Braces.

The girls entered the church in the arms of their father, preceded by little Miss Anne Rose, a ring-bearer, who was preceded by a flower girl, and a boy with hat and gloves in match, and carrying the bride's train.

Mr. Robert Johnson, of Richmond, Va., sang very sweetly "Believe Me of All Times Endearing Young Charles." The wedding song was "The Church's One Foundation," sung by the choir. The bride and groom were then pronounced man and wife by the Rev. J. W. Lupton, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Leesburg, and the bride and groom were then pronounced man and wife by the Rev. J. EXCLUDE JAPANESE FROM SCHOOLS

Action of San Francisco Authorities Cause Protest to President Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, October 25.—Vice Consul Aoki, the Japanese ambassador, at a conference with Secretary Root at the State Department today, made the request, in behalf of his government, that the United States see that Japanese subjects in California were accorded their full rights under the treaty of 1894, including the right of children to freely attend the public schools of San Francisco. Secretary Root will take the matter up with the President, and it is likely that representative will be made to the authorities of California.

The ambassador said that the exclusion of Japanese children from San Francisco schools was the chief cause of the harsh criticism of the United States by the Japanese government, and that the United States was inclined to discount the charges against the exclusion of Japanese children from the schools. Here are two facts we want you to jot down in your mental note book: More Kirschbaum suits and overcoats are sold in the large cities and fashion centers than any other make. That is definite assurance of their style.

You find if you investigate that they have the call in every woolen-mill town and every great cloth-weaving center where men are brought up to know fabrics. That says volumes for the quality of the goods
